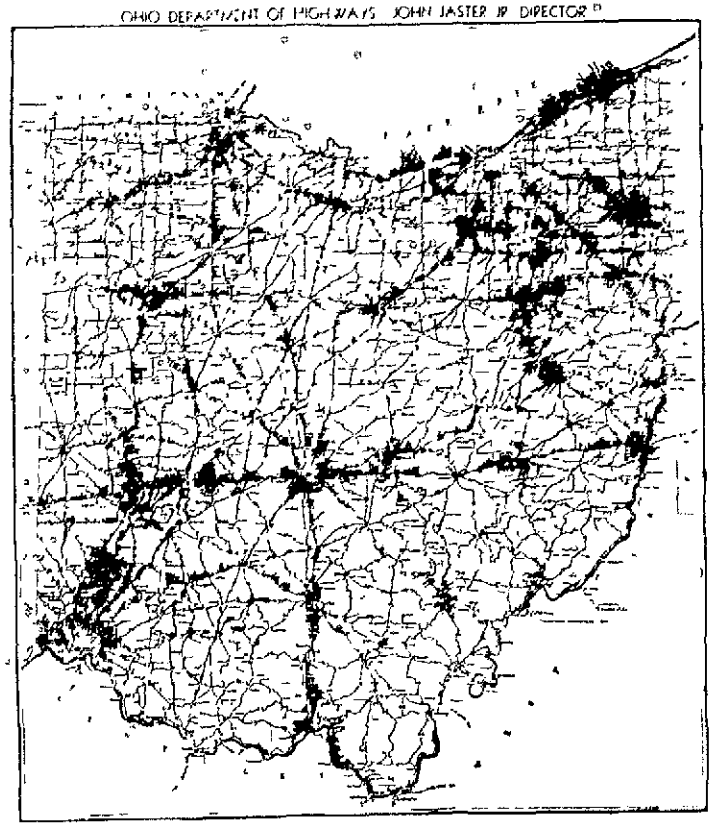
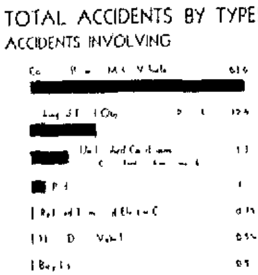
MOTOR VEHICLE ACCIDENTS ON STATE HIGHWAYS

OUTSIDE MUNICIPALITIES JANUARY 1 TO DECEMBER 31, 1936

OHIO DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS JOHN JASTER JR DIRECTOR

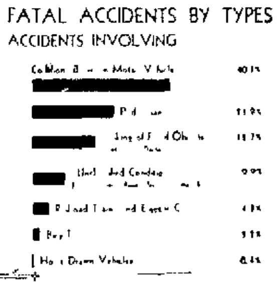




TOTAL ACCIDENTS BY TYPES

ACCIDENTS INVOLVING

8629 ACCIDENTS
659 KILLED
6998 INJURED



FATAL ACCIDENTS BY TYPES

ACCIDENTS INVOLVING

Simultaneously with release of the [illegible] statistics above [illegible] motor vehicle accidents on state highways outside municipalities during 1936 and showing where the chief danger points were located, Highway Director John Jaster Jr. announced that a slightly better situation is shown in figures for January of this year.

During the first month of 1937 the report shows there were 514 accidents on the rural sections of state highways, a decrease of 9 under the same month in 1936. Deaths showed a decline of four under a year ago. For the first month of this year there were 35 persons killed compared to [illegible] for the first month of last year.

Injured showed an increase of four over 1936. The injured in January 1937 numbered 355 against [illegible] for January 1936.

Belief was expressed by Highway Director Jaster that the continued traffic drop in accidents [illegible] owing to the flood [illegible] virtually reduced traffic to a minimum in eastern and southern Ohio as well as causing [illegible] reduction of traffic on the [illegible] flooded roads of central Ohio.

DENIES GUILT

Tyrell Fos[illegible], colored, of 259 East Fairground street, pleaded not guilty at an arraignment before Municipal Judge William R. Martin yesterday to a charge of reckless driving. He was arrested by police early yesterday on a charge filed by Mrs. Oakley Warren of Bennett street, alleging he operated an automobile in a reckless manner on North State street Feb. [illegible]. Hearing was set for March 16.

AUTO RECOVERED

An automobile belonging to [illegible] Porter of 255 Superior street and reported stolen from near [illegible] Oak Grove avenue between 9:30 and 11:30 o'clock last night was found several hours later by police on South Main street.

EVE'S ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDDEMER

[illegible] Eve Mannersfield [illegible] her two-century- [illegible] and orchard in [illegible] after five years of [illegible] in New York. [illegible] George Cleveland, [illegible] experimenter, who [illegible] Seymour house, [illegible] an old family [illegible] clean and move antiques down [illegible] days later she is [illegible] George's Park ave- [illegible] at tea when Denny, [illegible] fiance, suddenly [illegible] the city. Eve had [illegible] would.

THIRTEEN

[illegible] Faux Pas

[illegible] on seeing

[illegible] Cleveland!" Denny [illegible] charming. Eve [illegible] he set down his [illegible] with a side [illegible] courteously toward [illegible] "And George" [illegible] gathering of the [illegible] you two manage [illegible] from Park ave- [illegible] answered him he sat [illegible] reached for a

"I'm staying the week-end with you, Eve. I brought a fat suitcase and a hat I'm sure [illegible] know [illegible] in the [illegible] of the [illegible] I'm staying for you."

"This [illegible] young [illegible]" Uncle Henry asked [illegible] was [illegible] Mrs. Cleveland sat back, more horrified than she had been when talking of modern morals or bad servants.

"Staying over the week-end alone in this house with Miss Mannersfield, Mr. Carter?" she said. "Surely you are joking. I didn't even know you two were friends."

Denny was apparently having one of his [illegible] of not knowing what to say first. Eve interposed. She knew [illegible] and Mrs. Cleveland's [illegible]. There was just one thing to say. Denny had wanted her to tell the people out here, anyway.

"Oh, we know each other so well that we may even go so far as getting married one of these days," she said lightly, proudly. She expected to see George's mother beam conventionally; instead she stiffened and darkened still more.

"Mr. Carter gave me to understand it was quite another lady he was going to marry," she said, and waited for the reply to her bombshell.

Still amused, Eve glanced across at Denny. He did not speak. He did not even move or smile.

Uncle Henry Saves the Day

It was Uncle Henry's slow voice that broke the silence. He stood there, stooped and grizzled and easy, in his sweater and overalls, and said, "Well, I agree with you that Evelina shouldn't be staying here alone, but you were sort of jumping to conclusions, Mrs. Cleveland. I'm staying with her myself till one of her girl friends comes out. But I'm not sure whether Denny here is planning on staying with us or was just joshing. He's welcome—there's lots of room, and the Mannersfields always liked company. How about it son?"

Uncle Henry's words were as always unhurried. Uncle Henry's face was about as expressive as it ever was, which is saying nothing at all. But under the impact behind his words Mrs. Cleveland, the type which will bully men or be bullied by them, was cowed and began twittering various things none of which amounted to a complete sentence. George in the background might have been a well-groomed statue. As for Denny, given time by Uncle Henry's long speech, his flush faded, said winningly:

"Thanks a lot, sir. As a matter of fact I was going to trespass on the well-known hospitality. And another of us is bound to turn up this evening too. Ellen Walton. We're rather awful droppers-in, Mrs. Cleveland."

He turned and smiled impudently, charmingly at the lady, and she slowly pressed back to approval, began to talk rather fast about antiques and the beauties of Connecticut scenery. She did not persist in her inquiry. Presently Denny was talking too, but pleasantly, flatteringly, airly, till the lady was herself again. Apparently Evelina's gay phrase about marrying Denny was simply a bad joke so far as every one else was concerned. Eve sat mechanically pouring and drinking [illegible] there by the leaping fire with her guests about her. She felt [illegible] and numbed.

"It's the Real Life"

George was talking to her when she became conscious of what any[illegible] said. The others were hot on the [illegible] of possible antiques Uncle Henry [illegible] know a lot about [illegible] people had them.

George was leaning easily by the fireplace [illegible] between his fingers. [illegible] have asked some question [illegible] for he was saying, "That's the trouble [illegible] too [illegible] people can't understand it."

"This 'it'," she said vaguely.

"It's the real life. Of course I'm lucky enough to have a moderate, [illegible] income of my own. But I could get along if I wasn't. I've [illegible] I [illegible] the place a year ago. My mother has done the actual refurnishing of the house, [illegible] a habitable place for Ad[illegible] and me, but she got me to [illegible] her [illegible] over as [illegible] as possible to what it used to be. But, leaving that out, between what I've grown on the old place and my professional work up and down the valley here I've made a decent living. It was a deliberate experiment."

She dimly heard him talking on, eagerly, as if he wanted her to know all about him, and wondered why.

"My father wanted me to follow him," he was saying, "but I know too much what that life's like. Strain, overwork, turning into a force that wears men out; families they scarcely keep in touch with, wives they can't be companions to."

"I think you're quite right," she said listlessly, not caring whether he was or not.

His face became eager.

"I knew you would!" he said. "I knew you'd feel that time to live, time to put down roots, and woods and fields of your own with time to walk in them, were what mattered. You seemed like that, even in that smoky little apartment, being so gracious to that poor kid Judge, who had been reared like a city dog on a chain."

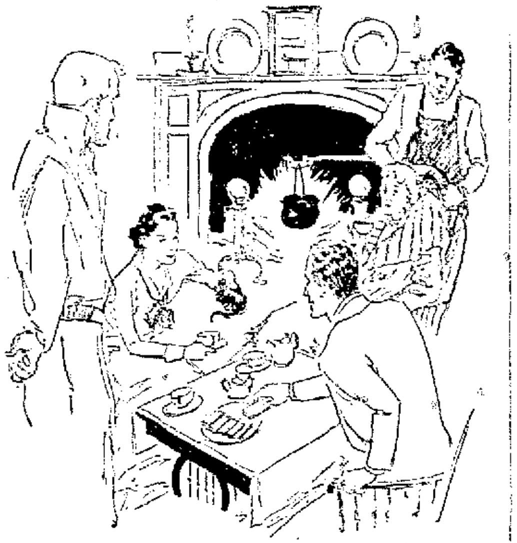
Something in the warmth and intensity of his voice penetrated even her dull misery.

"But I don't feel like that," she began to say, when Mrs. Cleveland drowned her voice, rising and saying her dominant goodbys. Denny followed her to the door, still at his most charming. She was, gracious even to the point of asking Eve to tea soon.

"And we must talk more about your lovely cabinet—"

George followed his mother out, and Uncle Henry escorted her to the door, country fashion. Eve was alone with Denny.

—Eve acquires a steady roomer, tomorrow.



Denny sat down easily and reached for a cake. I'm staying the week-end with you, Eve."

WORTHINGTON, LOBBYIST

The first legislature of Ohio authorized the payment of a bill for lobbyist service—not in the Ohio legislature but in congress. The lobbyist was Thomas Worthington, who was elected as one of the first pair of U. S. senators from this state, and became governor 11 years later.

Worthington was sent to be on hand to ease the way through congress, for the resolution accepting the constitution that the constitutional convention of Ohio had adopted and submitted. Whether there was to be a state of Ohio depended somewhat upon the success of his efforts.

The total of Worthington's bill was only $552 to cover both services and expenses.

TAX DEADLINE EXTENDED

Madge Senses Adventure as She Phones Mrs. Perkins

AT MY TIMOROUS question as to what I ought to say if Polly Perkins [illegible] else [illegible] Underwood as [illegible] general [illegible] appealed to [illegible] wife.

[illegible] the bags [illegible] she said. "It's the best [illegible] up of difficult situations I know."

[illegible] waited [illegible] she spoke with quick [illegible] and clarity.

"In the first place, ask for Mrs. Perkins herself," she said. "You may get her without any trouble, and then you won't have to use the password until you talk to her. But if you have any trouble about getting her, insist upon talking to her personally. Say to the person who answers the telephone, 'I am Mrs. Smith of Narragansett, and I am sure Mrs. Perkins will talk to me.' Be sure to tell her Narragansett because I know she knows several Mrs. Smiths."

Plan Is Set

"That ought to turn the trick and then when Mrs. Perkins comes to the telephone, repeat your assertion that you are Mrs. Smith of Narragansett and that you are one of a party of five who would like a late lobster dinner and lodging for the night. Say that you can't not get there until after nightfall and ask her the latest hour you can get dinner. That will cue her sufficiently. From that point on take your cue from her. Savvy?"

"Perfectly," I said, and [illegible] [illegible] back [illegible] a mixture of [illegible]

[illegible] fact that he [illegible] final expression [illegible] we drew up to the curb at the next drug store, and [illegible] though I knew he [illegible] descended from his seat and with Mary helped us [illegible]. I was conscious of [illegible] going [illegible] as I went into the store with Lillian and Mary.

Madge Telephones

"[illegible] favorite [illegible]," I said to them as I moved toward the telephone booth. "Please [illegible] me while I get this [illegible]."

"We'll have your tipple ready," Lillian promised with a grin as I went into the telephone booth and closed the door after me.

Foolishly enough I found that my heart was beating excitedly as I took down the receiver and asked for the number of the Polly Perkins Inn, which I had previously memorized from the telephone book. As Lillian had predicted, the woman who came to the telephone was not Mrs. Perkins, and asked if she could not take the message as Mrs. Perkins was busy.

But when I repeated what Lillian had told me to say, stressing the word, "Narragansett," there was an electrical change in the voice at the other end.

"I'll call Mrs. Perkins at once," she said. "Please don't get off the line."

In another minute I heard a crisp, pleasant voice, with the flat, unmistakable, curiously attractive accent of the born New Englander.

Adventure Looms

"Mrs. Smith, I believe, of Narragansett?"

"Yes, of Narragansett," I stressed the word.

"I am so glad to hear your voice. I have been expecting you ever since you wrote and asked for rooms, and told me you were arriving today, or rather tonight. I believe you said tonight, didn't you?"

She was "cueing" me skillfully and effectively. I answered in kind.

"Yes, we can't get in until after dark, I'm afraid. But we are so anxious for a lobster dinner. We have heard so much about your dinners. What is the latest hour we can have one?"

"Would it be convenient for you to be here at 10 o'clock, daylight saving time? I can have a dinner ready for you by that time. How many are there in your party?"

"Five, and we will be there at 10 sharp." With a heady feeling of adventure just around the corner, I went back to Mary, Lillian and the others.

Five Tons of Earth Part of "Tobacco Road" Props

Jack Kirkland's Celebrated Play on Palace Stage To-night; Curtain Rises at 8:30 O'Clock.

Five tons of earth were dumped on the stage of the Palace theater this afternoon and for more than four hours a stage crew worked to transform the broad expanse into the yard and tobacco road that are part of the setting of Jack Kirkland's celebrated play "Tobacco Road" in which Taylor Holmes will be seen tonight at 8:30.

Advance seat sale has broken all records, Manager George E. Planck said yesterday. However, seats still will be available at the boxoffice tonight until curtain time. Playgoers are urged by the management to be in their seats early to avoid confusion. The play will start promptly at 8:30.

Holmes, the company manager, the cast and stage crew arrived in Marion shortly after noon today from Middletown where the play was given last night, and will leave at 2:15 a. m. Friday, for Dayton.

The five tons of earth required for the setting are carried from city to city in five huge wooden boxes and is spread around the tumbledown house in which Jeeter Lester and his family live.

Based on Erskine Caldwell's celebrated novel, "Tobacco Road," has been pronounced "the epic American play," by an authoritative critic.

Taylor Holmes heads the cast in the role of Jeeter Lester, the central figure. Ada, the wife, will be acted by Florence Gerald and Vinnie Phillips will be the middle-aged missionary. Among other players are Sally Sanderson, Merryl Dayden, Lillian Ardell, William Bishop, Dick Lee, Walter Ayers and Harry Townes.

O. W. U. DEBATE TEAM ON ONE-WEEK TOUR

Marion Student Is Member Of Forensic Group.

Miss Katharine Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Marshall of 302 Lafayette street is a member of the Ohio Wesleyan university debate team which is on a week's tour.

Yesterday the team debated at the University of Kentucky in Lexington. The team scored a two to one victory over a men's team in a debate at Centre college in Danville, Ky., according to word received by Marion friends. The first of the week's debates was on Monday night at Cincinnati. The schedule also includes a meet with a team at Berea college in Kentucky.

Miss Marshall is vice president of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary debate fraternity. She recently produced a one-act play at the university as a part of her course in dramatics.

FOR BACKACHE KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLE

Stop Getting Up Nights and Feel Younger

Here's one good way to flush harmful waste from kidneys and stop bladder irritation that often causes scanty, burning and smarting passage.

Ask your druggist for a 35-cent box of Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules—a splendid safe and harmless diuretic and stimulant for weak kidneys and irritated bladder.

Besides getting up nights, some symptoms of kidney trouble are backaches, puffy eyes, leg cramps, and moist palms, but be sure to get GOLD MEDAL—it's the genuine medicine for weak kidneys—right from Haarlem in Holland.—Adv.

MARION STUDENT TO SING WITH CLUB

Milton Baker On Program With O. S. U. Women's Group Here Friday.

Milton Baker of Marion, member of the Ohio State university's men's glee club, will sing a selection which will augment a program by the university's women's glee club Friday night at 8 at the Central Junior High school.

The concert is being sponsored by the Harding High school music department to raise funds for the department. Tickets may be purchased for a small sum from pupils or at the door Friday night.

Miss Janet Crider of Crestline, a member of the glee club, will appear on the program with one piano selection, and the quartet from the men's glee club of the university will sing two numbers.

The club will open the program with four selections, "Sleepers Wake! A Voice Is Sounding" and "For the Law of the Spirit" both by Bach, "Benedictus [illegible]" by Byrd and "How Merrily We Live" by Este.

Miss Crider will play "Concert Etude" by MacDowell and Mr. Baker will sing "Within These Sacred Dwellings" by Mozart, preceding the club's next group which will consist of "Song from Ossian's Fingal" by Brahms, "Gute Nacht," a German folk song and "Sing Ye Praises to the Highest," by Brahms.

"The May Night" by Brahms and "The Spirit Flower" by Campbell-Tipton, sung by the men's quartet will precede the final group by the club.

Singing of "A Bird Flew" by Clokey, "A Widow Bird Sat Mourning for Her Love" by Sharman, "Music When Soft Voices Die" by Kramer and "Bid Me to Live," by Hadley, by the club will close the program.

The club will sing under the direction of Dale V. Gilliland, assistant professor of music.

PRESIDENTS TO FACE 1936 STATE CHAMPS ON DELAWARE COURT

Other Teams Nearby To Play at Carey, Kenton and Westerville

[illegible] at Delaware [illegible] in the semi-final [illegible] tomorrow night [illegible] 12 [illegible]

Coach [illegible] with a record of 16 victories during the 17 game schedule, was tied in the semi-finals of the district [illegible] with [illegible] Circleville and [illegible] to 23 [illegible] Raiders in the same bracket of the [illegible] defeated Columbus North 43 to 30 in the opening round and trounced Mt Vernon [illegible] in the second game. The Presidents will play [illegible] 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night with Columbus West and Bexley, semi-finalists in the upper bracket, meeting an hour earlier. Victorious teams are to clash at 8:30 Saturday night for the district title at [illegible] the state [illegible] defeated [illegible] in Friday night games will play for the third place position award [illegible] 7:30 Saturday night.

In the class B tourney at Westerville in which three Marion county teams were entered, the competition will reach the quarter-final stage in games set for tomorrow night. The first contest will begin at 6 o'clock and follow this schedule: [illegible] Delaware vs Sparta, 7—Upper Arlington vs Granville, 8—Plain City vs Radnor and 9 Groveport vs Danville.

Kenton's district class A event will move into the semi-finals Friday night with two Lima teams still in the fight for the coveted honors. In the first game at 7:30 Lima South will meet Findlay while Lima Central is paired with Fostoria in the second game an hour later. The finals are scheduled for 8:30 o'clock Saturday night.

Four counties will be represented by as many teams in the semi-final round of the class B district event at Carey to be played tomorrow night. Opening at 8 o'clock the competition will bring together Thompson of Geauga and Rawson of Hancock, while at 9 o'clock Ontario of Richland and Holmes Liberty of Crawford will meet.

With the exception of Harding High's team only one other North Central Ohio league member, Ashland, remains in tournament competition. The Hilltoppers who finished their entire season with but two defeats and annexed an undisputed N C O title will meet Bellevue in a semi-final game of the district affair at Sandusky tomorrow night. Fremont and Tiffin Columbian will be pitted against each other in the second semi-final contest.

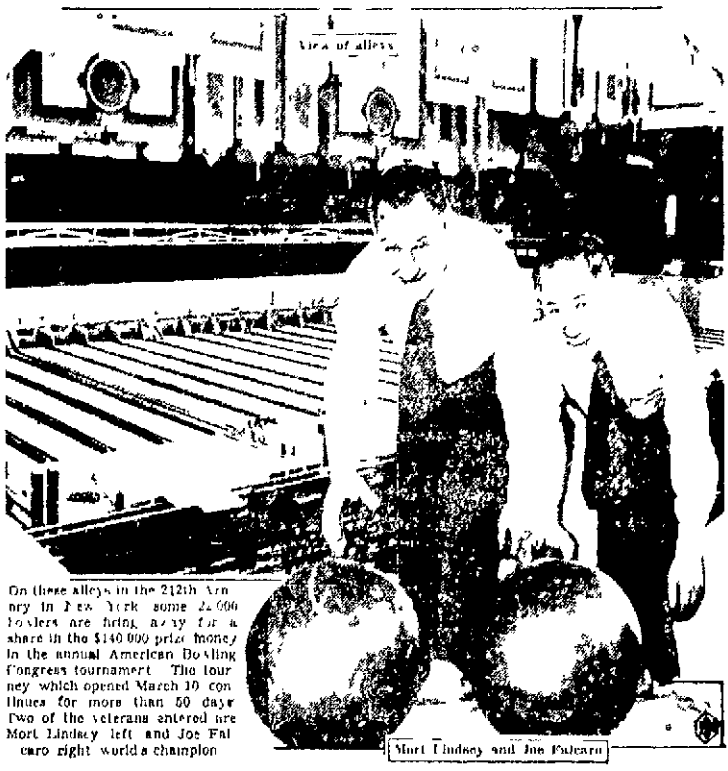
Nation's Bowlers Stage Strikes Here



Mort Lindsey and Joe Falcaro

On these alleys in the 212th Armory in New York some 24,000 bowlers are firing away for a share in the $140,000 prize money in the annual American Bowling Congress tournament. The tourney which opened March 10 continues for more than 50 days. Two of the veterans entered are Mort Lindsey, left, and Joe Falcaro, right, world's champion.

TIGERS' "DOC" COCHRANE ON THE JOB

Just about everyone agrees that pennant chances of the Detroit Tigers this season depend a lot on whether the broken wrist of Hank Greenberg, first baseman, has healed properly. So it was natural that one of the first things Manager Mickey Cochrane, right, did when spring training began at Lakeland, Fla., was to give the injured wrist a personal examination. Greenberg is confident it's all right again. (Associated Press Photo.)

BRADDOCK-LOUIS SETUP REVEALS LOSS OF POWER BY GARDEN

Madison Square Seen Losing Grip on Heavyweight Boxing Industry.

BY ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 11—Nothing could reveal more strikingly the shift in heavyweight fistiana's balance of power than the present setup for the Jim Braddock-Joe Louis title match in Chicago with the Madison Square Garden corporation on the outside for the first time since the late George Lewis (Tex) Rickard interested Wall Street in pugilistic playthings.

The garden still has the privilege of tossing a few legal punches on behalf of its contract for Braddock to fight Max Schmeling for the title in New York June 3. The garden's chief executive, John Reed Kilpatrick, an old Yale Blue, insists he will fight to the finish to stop the Chicago match.

Meantime, and despite the noisy efforts of Schmeling himself to promote a title fight with Braddock this year in Berlin, the multiple interests backing the Chicago bout are going right ahead because (A) they have the inside track, and (B) they know they have the biggest heavyweight money-maker available.

All of which, my dear Watson, means that Madison Square garden, having already lost Rickard, most of the original "600 millionaires," and much of its old fistic prestige, now seemingly has lost its exclusive hold on the heavyweight industry including the titleholder.

The blow is more severe to the Garden's pride than to its balance sheet. The heavyweight title has been more of a gold brick than a gold mine since Rickard died in 1929. Boxing nowadays comprises less than five per cent of the garden's financial operations.

STILL A HOLDOUT

Earl Averill

Still holding out for a sizable salary increase, Earl Averill takes it easy in his [illegible] home. The slugging outfielder of the Indians is asking $17,[illegible] for his services this year.

By Gus Edson

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE, MR STELTH—I CAN'T GO THROUGH WITH THIS PLAY-ACTING! I'D MAKE A FOOL OUT OF MYSELF!
YOU'LL PLAY-ACT, ALL RIGHT! THIS IS A COMMAND PERFORMANCE!
3-11
CAN'T YOU SEE THE PROSECUTION DEFILING MY CHARACTER TO THE WHOLE WORLD?
YOU DON'T SEEM TO REALIZE YOU'RE ON TRIAL FOR GRAND LARCENY!
BUT—HOW CAN I FACE MY FRIENDS AFTERWARDS?
LISTEN, MISTER OPTIMIST—IF YOU DON'T DO AS I SAY, THEY WON'T EVEN REMEMBER YOU BY THE TIME THEY SEE YOU AGAIN!

Daily Pattern for Home Use

BY ANNE ADAMS

VERSATILE FROCK O' THE SEASON SERVES FOR "AT HOME" OR SPORTS

It's the frock of the season—this proud little "at home" style that will keep the busy home-maker [illegible] and span through busy mornings, or dress her up for sports or informal afternoons at home! There's chic a-plenty in the youthful color, and a dash of spice in the brief sleeves that are cut all in one with the fetching bodice-panel! And do notice the three tucks that assure you a perfectly fitting bodice. Clever, aren't they? We like the way the flared skirt is nipped in at the waistline by a narrow tie-belt, and accented by two of the handiest triangle pockets you ever saw. Making Pattern 4342 is no trick at all, and a cheery task when you work with bright percale, dimity, gingham or seersucker.

Send Fifteen Cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size Name, Address and Style Number.

A smart wardrobe—Yours! Order our Spring Anne Adams Pattern Book and see how easy it is to make becoming, up-to-minute outfits quickly and inexpensively at home! Revel in a wide choice of sparkling all-occasion frocks, suits, blouses — with special, slimming styles for the stouter woman. Practical, fashion-right models for kiddies and "debs," too! Fabric tips. Book Fifteen Cents. Pattern Fifteen Cents. Twenty-five Cents for both when ordered together.

Send your order to The Marion Star, Pattern Department, 243 W. 17th St., New York, N. Y.

THE IVORY PATROL WELCOMES YOU TO AMBESI VILLAGE, MR. LAZAC. MAY I ASK YOU YOUR REASONS FOR ENTERING THIS TERRITORY?
I HAVE COME MANY MILES IN SEARCH OF ONE ANTON BORGAT, CAPT. CLARK— HE HAS BEEN HERE RECENTLY?
THIS IS A MILITARY POST, LAZAC—WE NEVER DIVULGE ANY INFORMATION WE MAY POSSESS CONCERNING PERSONS OR THEIR MOVEMENTS
THAT IS QUITE UNFORTUNATE FOR ME — AND PRINCESS DELLAS
AND WHY ARE YOU SO ANXIOUS TO FIND THIS—ER—MAN YOU CALL BORGAT?
THAT, SIR, IS SOMETHING I AM NOT AT LIBERTY TO STATE
WHILE, MILES INLAND, TIM, SPUD AND ANTON BORGAT CAMP FOR THE NIGHT.
MIST-TIM-I CAN'T FIGGER THIS GENT OUT—CAN YOU?
NO SPUD—WHY SHOULD WE TRY? WE'RE ONLY ASSIGNED TO ESCORT HIM

PROFESSOR MAPS "RUT OF LEISURE"

By International News Service

CHICAGO—If you are a typical American and spend your leisure time in a typically American fashion you divide it among the following diversions:

Listening to the radio.
Reading newspapers.
Attending movies.
Playing bridge.
Motoring.
Attending parties.

These activities are described by Dr. Paul A. Witty, professor of education, Northwestern University, as "the rut of American leisure," after eight years study of the nation's recreational penchants.

Children, on the other hand, he finds, spend their time in a far broader field, youngsters of eight averaging 37 activities per week encompassing 28 different types. But as they grow older the variety diminishes, by the time they are 16, the field is narrow to [illegible] activities per week of about nine different types, and so on as the years march on.

HOME SUBSIDY URGED

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Dr. Alice Keliher, of New York university, in an address before the Childhood Education association here, said that [illegible] subsidies, paid either by the parents or the state, should be granted to young couples if the husband is unable to support his wife.

LATE SLUMPS TRIM WHEAT AT CHICAGO

Reduced Demand Follows Yesterday's Spree; Foreign Buying Apparent.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 11—Late setbacks reduced Chicago wheat market prices 1½ cents a bushel in some cases today.

Lighter buying demand after yesterday's immense international wheat trade did much to bring about lower prices. Foreigners, however, were credited with buying wheat futures here and at Winnipeg in the early trading.

At the close, wheat was [illegible] under yesterday's finish, May 1.37½ [illegible], July 1.20⅝@[illegible], corn unchanged to ¼ lower, May 1.09⅛, July 1.02⅞@1.03, oats [illegible] off, and provisions unchanged to 20 cents decline.

DOESN'T WORRY; IS 106

By United Press

PORTLAND, Ore.—John Nelson Ridgley, who voted for Abraham Lincoln over Stephen A. Douglas for U. S. senator from Illinois in 1858, on his 106th birthday here told those who seek longevity: "I never let anything worry me."

Motors, Steels, Coppers and Oils Recede Under Profit Taking After Advance.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—[illegible] lost some of their buoyancy in today's market along with [illegible].

While strength was still displayed by selected issues, profit selling cut down a number of motors, steels, coppers and [illegible].

An early set back in [illegible], as strike complications continued for this company, tended to chill buying sentiment.

Rubbers lifted forward [illegible] for this staple established new tops since 1929 and rumors were heard of another boost in tire prices.

Bonds were narrow and wheat and cotton mixed.

Shares in demand most of the time for gains up to 2 points or more included Goodyear, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Firestone, Gulf States Steel, Republic, Inland, St. Joseph Lead, National Lead, [illegible] Mines, Illinois Central, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania, [illegible]

Industrial Alcohol, National Distillers, U. S. Leather, American Hide & Leather, Crown Zellerbach, Canada Dry and Heinz Jackson.

Inclined to slip were Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, National Steel, Yellow Truck, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, North American, Anaconda, Kennecott, Homestake Mining, U. S. Smelting, Standard Oil and N. J. Texas Corp., American Can, General Electric, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Union Pacific, New York Central, du Pont and Johns-Manville.

Among items interesting to trading forces was the report of the federal reserve board disclosing department store sales was February topped any month since June, 1931.

It was estimated merchandising volumes exceeded those of February last year by 10 per cent, but the first two months of the year sales were 11 per cent above the aggregate of the same 1936 period.

Coincident with indications last week's freight loadings, officially published tomorrow, jumped to approximately 710,000, financial circles were beginning to forecast resumption of dividends by several railroads this year if expanding traffic continues.

The French franc, at the beginning of foreign exchange transactions was up .01 1-16 of a cent at 4.68 cents. Sterling was ⅛ of a cent improved at $4.88 11-16.

FAT HUSBANDS WANTED

The heart's desire of the Japanese girl is a fat and kindly husband of modest income who is willing to live with his parents, bear him three children, and be content to attend only three movie shows a month. All this was revealed by questions put to girls in a Tokyo training school for housewives. Most of the girls wanted their marriages arranged through go-betweens. Many stressed the attractions of fixed wages so that government officials lead in popularity as possible mates.

Commercial coal consumption of the United Kingdom last year exceeded all previous records and the production of coal exceeded the 1935 output by more than 5,500,000 tons.
